Description

The Classic Contact Grills are a reliable tool for the snack preparation. The hand-made grills from Germany offer a robust quality and easy operation. Massive cast iron plates ensure a superior heat storage. This guarantees a quick preparation and the perfect grill pattern on the food. The plates made of classic cast iron do not require a non-stick coating and are resistant to mechanical influences. Thus they can be cleaned intensively without any fear to damage the material. The proven quality of the German manufactory and the constant material quality offer the user a solid working tool that he can rely on for many years.
